Albury Wodonga Health Graduate Nurse Program 2019

Since the amalgamation to Albury Wodonga Health in 2009, the health service has become a large regional centre with 240 beds across two campuses (Albury and Wodonga). A catchment population of 320,000 ensures that Albury Wodonga Health treats over 60,000 emergency patients each year, with more than 31,000 inpatient admissions. The Graduate Program is an important part of this Health Service, promoting quality patient care and professional excellence

Aim of the AWH Graduate Nurse Program:
To develop clinical competence and skills in the multifaceted professional role of the RN, and to provide high quality learning experiences to enhance professional and self-development

Program information:
- Program Duration: 52 weeks from commencement date
- Intakes for 2018: February and May
- No of Participants: 21 (across both intake dates)
- Employment hours: 0.8 EFT (4 days/week)
- Applications: Applicants must be registered with Computer Match
  Applications: Open between May 27th and July 29th, 2018
  Application process is electronically through AWH (see below)
- Interviews: August 2018

Rotations offered: (May be 3, 4 or 6 month rotations across both sites)
- Medical; Surgical; Day Procedure Unit; Health Care @Home; Rehabilitation; ICU; ED; Mental Health; Theatre; Paediatrics; Maternity

Support available:
- Clinical Educators / Clinical Support Nurses / Ward RNs / Graduate Co-ordinator

Other:
- Extensive education opportunities
- 4 study days
- Certificate upon completion of the program
- Salary packaging is available
Entry into the Albury Wodonga Health Graduate Nurse Program

Entry to the Graduate Nurse Program is via the Victorian Nursing Computer Match system. The computer match process commences in May 2018 with the applicant entering their priority list online. Applications to AWH are due electronically by mid-July and interviews are held in August. The computer match process is completed in mid-October and offers of positions are immediately made for the programs. To access the Nurse Computer Match services, go to: www.computermatching.pmcv.com.au

Application Process:

1. Applicants must apply through www.awh.org.au. Go to: Employment-Positions Vacant-Current vacancies. You will be linked to careers.vic.gov.au. Select the desired position, read information related to this position (A Position description is available to view)
2. “Apply”, at the bottom of the page, will bring up the application form. Please supply all information requested and attach all required documents (certified copies), including:
   - A letter of application
   - A current CV that outlines your employment history and all clinical placements during your undergraduate degree. Included in this CV are the names of two professional referees: e.g. current employer, clinical nurse educator. Written references are not required
   - A transcript of academic results (with legend attached) and copies of the last two summative clinical assessments. Formative reports are not required

Please Note:

- You are only able to upload a maximum of 5 documents (PDF or Word), which cannot exceed 2MB each. Any other documents may be brought to interview
- If you encounter problems or wish to provide feedback re this application process, do so via e-mail to people.workforce@awh.org.au
- Group interviews are conducted and selection for the program is based on the outcome of these interviews. These interviews are overseen by the Graduate Program Coordinator and other senior members of staff
- As AWH is a Victorian hospital, all graduates will be employed according to Victorian conditions - Nurse and Midwives Enterprise Agreement 2016-2020
- Preferences for rotations cannot be guaranteed